

Do you want to leave a legacy that lasts beyond your years?

What better way to make a difference than to leave a bright future for people with Down syndrome.

DSRF is working towards a Canada that values and empowers people with Down syndrome, fostering economic, social, and individual inclusion throughout their lives. By including DSRF in your estate planning, you will ensure that this important work continues.

We are here to help. For additional information, please contact us at:

Create Your Legacy

Thoughtful ways to honour people with Down syndrome

- Include DSRF in your will or trust
- Charitable life insurance gifts
- Gifts of RRSPs, RRIFs or TFSAs
- Gifts from your Donor Advised Fund
- Appreciated securities
- Real estate

Gifts in your will or trust

A gift through your will or trust is perhaps the easiest and most flexible way to help ensure that we continue our mission for years to come. Specify a gift of any amount or percentage in your will, or name the Down Syndrome Resource Foundation as a contingent beneficiary.

A legacy gift potentially allows you to make a greater financial contribution than would be possible at any other time in your life, and is a demonstration of your care for those who will come after you. There may be tax savings depending on the assets you designate for a gift from your estate.

There are many ways to make a legacy gift. Talking about your intentions with your family and advisors ensures your wishes are properly met and appropriate for your circumstances.

Please don't forget to tell us you are making a planned gift to the Down Syndrome Resource Foundation. We can help you determine the best way to leave the legacy you intend, and we would also love the opportunity to thank you for helping to support the success of children, youth, and adults with Down syndrome for generations to come.
